What Does NARIWA Do?

- It contains a balance of naturally ionized essential minerals to help nourish cells and increase bioenergy.
- Its natural magnetization enables its molecules to be more easily absorbed by cells to help detoxify them.
- With a slightly higher alkaline pH, it helps to keep body fluids from becoming overly acidic.

What Does *SuperNARIWA Do?

Chemical build-up can lead to blood contamination

Large clusters of nutrients cannot be easily absorbed into cells

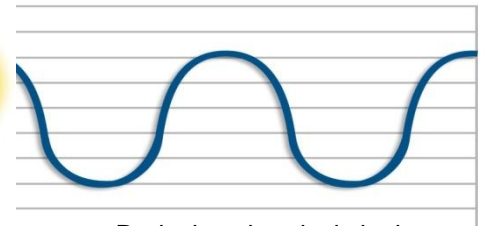

These factors lead to unstable energy patterns within the body

Healthy blood cells free of chemicals

Organized molecules enter cells easily

Reducing chemicals in the body helps ensure a stable health pattern

What Does the Medical Community Think?

- Studies conducted by doctors on their patients have concluded that SuperNARIWA:
 - Increases cell hydration
 - Removes and flushes wastes and metals from cells
 - Activates the flow of energy in the body
 - Increases blood flow and nerve electrical conduction
 - Balances pH and controls acidity

SuperNARIWA – Attacking Chemical Buildup

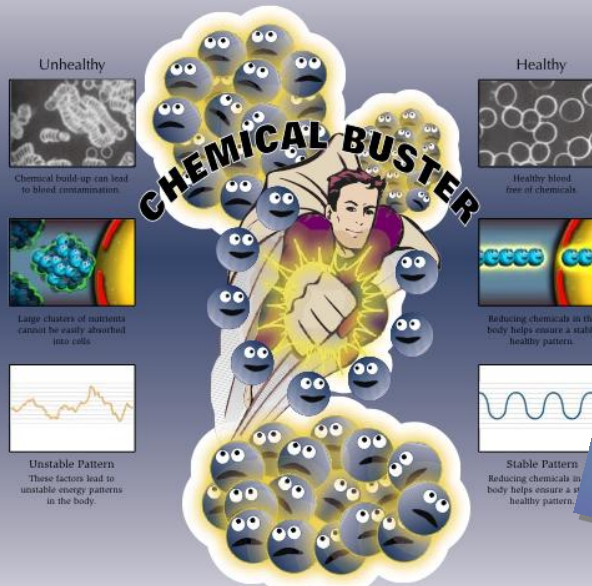

The cause of many diseases and low energy levels afflicting people today is due to the accumulation of toxic chemicals from the foods we eat and drink, as well as the air we breathe. Water, which makes up over 70% of our body mass, is the most influential and vital component of our health. Ensuring that the quality of water in our bodies is as high as possible with as few toxins as possible is a primary factor in our overall health.

Many of the toxic chemicals that build up in our systems often attack the body in a stealth-like way, building up silently over time until excess accumulation causes a severe condition. One of the most serious conditions is when chemicals begin to attack the blood, which can hinder oxygen and carbon dioxide distribution. This can result in the development of diseases such as diabetes, hypertension, cancer, Alzheimer, Parkinson, MS, migraine, autism, osteoporosis and others. It can also result in a loss of energy from these chemicals attacking the mitochondria of the cells.

To fight chemical build up, physicians, nutritionists and other health professionals recommend drinking quantities of water daily, as well as various minerals and supplements, to help detoxify the body. However, many waters available may include toxic wastes and chemical additives that create free radicals that can actually destroy cells and deteriorate the body. Many mineral supplements available have drawbacks such as molecules that are too large to for cells to absorb which lessens hydration and flushing of wastes from cells.

SuperNARIWA – The Chemical Buster

Ideal for detoxifying the body and improving energy.

SuperNARIWA has shown to breakdown chemical clusters into single molecules so they pass through cell walls in an orderly fashion for proper cell hydration, nourishment and cleansing.
